

We study a mean curvature problem arising in particular in the study of pendent capillary drops and MEMS (Micro-Electro-Mechanical Systems). The underlying mathematical problem is similar to the classical semilinear equation  $-\Delta u = \lambda f(u)$  but involves the mean-curvature operator instead of the Laplacian.